Public Hysteria

Doesn't Speak Highly for Civilized People

With about 200 persons dead and millions of dollars property damage in New England, Michigan, and Ohio tornadoes the last two days excitable persons are calling 1853 the worst tornado year in history — and the superstitious ones suspect the origin of the disaster can be traced to the atom-bomb testing grounds in the Western desert.

That, of course, is the ultimate in nonsense. People who don't even know how an atom bomb works — people like you and me — shouldn't presume therefore to say we figure it affects the weather. We're behaving ignorantly, hysterically — and it's unseemly behavior for adults.

No human being has ever yet done anything about the weather, to paraphrase the late Mark Twain, and I am not one of those who think today's people have grown so superhuman they can do what no one else has ever done before — even with the deadliest weapon of war.

Getting away from all this hysteria we take time out to study the technical reports of the weather men, who have something to back up their conclusions besides vaporous opinion.

In the first place, I don't know that the New England-Michigan-Ohio tornado sequence of the last 48 hours is any worse than the one which streaked across Arkansas and the Central South a year ago. It destroyed several towns, including Judsonia, and ran up a death toll approximating this year's.

The weather men say the persistent tornado attacks this year are due to an unusual run of conflicts between cold air from the north and hot air from the south, setting off the fatal pattern of whirlwind storms — a pattern, incidentally, that was known to men thousands of years ago as a symbol of death and destruction.

Your writer has nothing but a well-read lawman's knowledge of the science of meteorology, but the above judgment makes sense to me. This has been a late, cold spring, with occasional thrusts of hot weather from the Gulf. That's the setup which produces tornadoes, so the weather men say — and we've had it.

I know that much; but I don't know anything about the atom bomb — and you don't either.

Local Youth Tells About Coronation

Benjamin Carroll Hyatt, son of Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, is currently touring Europe and in a letter written June 5, to his grandmother, Mrs. C. C. Spragins, he described some of the things he saw in London during the recent coronation. Part of his letter follows:

Dear Grandmother:

This is a great week in London. Last night the crowds were still thick in the Mall and were pressing against the gates of Buckingham Palace. I didn't get in it last night — just rode my bicycle by there. I was there Tuesday night when the crowd was really enormous and people were getting almost squashed in the press. I waited about an hour before the newly-crowned Queen came out on the balcony with Philip and saluted the crowd.

I have seen the Queen so much now that I feel like an old friend. Wednesday afternoon she took the first of her drives into the little streets and I had a good view as she was going and again as she returned to the Palace.

I arrived in London just before midnight Monday. I walked up to Trafalgar Square and already the crowd was huge. All the good standing room had already been taken. I understand many people had held their positions since Sunday night. I tried to get a little sleep by sitting down against a building. When I awoke it was getting daylight and people were standing up forming their lines. So I got up too — about the tenth row back. It was about 4:30 then. So we stood like that until it was all over, around 11. By the time the Queen passed I was absolutely miserable. I did not have a good view of the parade. I just caught a glimpse of the Queen.

Saturday is the Derby and I understand many are remaining in the city to see it. I suppose I will too.

Garrett Baptists to Close Meeting

Large crowds continue to attend the Revival at Garrett Memorial Baptist Church. Rev. R. P. Campbell, Ennis, Texas, spoke last evening to one of the largest crowds yet to attend. The public is invited to hear Rev. Campbell both morning and evening in his final messages today and tomorrow. The meeting will close Thursday night with the baptizing Sunday night. Services begin at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Truce Work All But Finished as Swiss Balk

India, Sweden Willing to Participate

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
PANMUNJOM (AP) — United Nations and Communist truce negotiations — their work apparently all but finished — today handed staff officers the job of putting a Korean armistice into final form, then recessed indefinitely.

All signs still pointed to a cease-fire within the week, but these developments clouded the lecture:

1. Switzerland announced it would not serve on the five-nation prisoner-repatriation commission unless South Korea approves the truce.

2. South Korean leaders reiterated bitter opposition and anti-armistice demonstrations raged in Seoul for the second straight day.

3. A spokesman for Syngman Rhee dashed reports that the South Korean President will fly to Washington to make a personal appeal against the truce. Rhee, he said, will not leave Korea "at this time of grave situations."

Details of what went on at today's plenary session at Panmunjom were not disclosed, but the delegates presumably completed their work.

After 23 minutes, they recessed at Communist request subject to call by either side.

Lower level officers then assembled in the tiny truce hut and reportedly went to work on a review of cease-fire line that will separate Allied and Red forces during a truce.

They met for an hour and 35 minutes, then adjourned until Thursday.

Meanwhile, thousands of Korean youths snaked through Seoul streets in apparently well-organized demonstrations.

Shouting "Yankee go home," they marched on U. N. and U. S. buildings but were held back by military police.

Eisenhower Watches Truce Situation

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, keeping a close watch on Korean truce negotiations and the possible obstacles to a settlement, flies to Minneapolis for a speech today on the international situation.

The presidential plane Columbine was scheduled to take off from National Airport at 9:20 a. m., EST, on the first leg of a five-day trip taking Eisenhower into Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, New Hampshire and New York for five addresses.

He also plans a day of golf and perhaps some trout fishing in the South Dakota Black Hills area, where President Calvin Coolidge used to vacation.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen Eisenhower's first speech of the series, at the convention of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Minneapolis Auditorium, would be on the international situation.

He also plans a day of golf and perhaps some trout fishing in the South Dakota Black Hills area, where President Calvin Coolidge used to vacation.

Swimming, Diving Classes Planned at Municipal Pool

Mitchell LaGrone will handle classes at Municipal Swimming pool starting Friday of this week. It was announced today by Mrs. Foy Hammings.

All classes will be held as scheduled and junior life saving is planned for later in the year. When classes are completed others will be started.

Diving classes will be held daily, Monday through Friday, at 8 a. m. for both boys and girls.

Adult swimming classes will be held daily at 6:15 p. m. for men and women.

Soviets Halt Work on Big Baltic Base

BERLIN (AP) — The Russians have abruptly halted major operations in the construction of a giant naval base on the Baltic island of Rugen informed Allied quarters said today.

The East German Communist government's share in the huge plant also has been cut by more than half. A budget of 180 million East marks for labor and construction this year has been sliced to slightly less than 80 million.

The Rugen Island plan a dream of the Germans for many years, called for dockyards bigger than those in Hamburg, submarine pens, seaplane bases and a special harbor to handle ships up to battle-wagon size.

Rugen is the largest German island in the Baltic Sea. More than 350 square miles in area, it lies virtually due north of Berlin and is separated from the coast by only a narrow channel. Developed as a naval base, it would stand a thwart Central Europe, aimed directly at Scandinavia.

Russian supervisors and German labor started work last fall on blueprints seized from the Germans at the time of Hitler's collapse.

The Soviets aimed to establish a base that would advance their merchant and battle fleet into the heart of North European waters, due north from Central Germany.

The original plans would have required twelve years to build a base Allied officers said would then be bigger than Pearl Harbor.

Ever since the work started, Rugen has been sealed off from Western contact. The West has kept informed, however, through dozens of German engineers employed on the project who fled west. From such sources, the Allies were told that the main work has unaccountably stopped to have the budget slashed.

Allied officers said they heard two reasons for the abrupt cut-back:

1. A Kremlin "peace offensive" move to eliminate a possible sore spot in case of East-West negotiations.

2. Manpower shortages. East Germany is running out of competent engineers and now has no top man to handle such a gigantic program.

The first railroad tank cars were flat cars each of which had two large wooden tanks on it.

Rev. S. A. Whitlow Starts 9th Year at Baptist Church and Is Rewarded With Trip to Brazil

Last Sunday marked the beginning of the ninth year for the Rev. S. A. Whitlow as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Hope.

At a brief ceremony in connection with the morning worship service Harvey Holt, Chairman of the Deacons, presented the pastor with a check in behalf of the church to cover the expense of a 15-day mission tour of Brazil.

The party, headed by Dr. J. W. Marshall, President of Wayland College, Plainview, Texas, and Jackie Robinson, former U. S. Olympic Basketball star, will leave Miami on June 23 and return to Miami on August 3. He will include the Baptist Youth World Conference meeting in Rio de Janeiro, July 15-22.

In the party will be two basketball teams — boys' and girls' — and a unit of the International A Cappella Choir from Wayland College. The group is made up mostly of high school seniors and college students. His party will have charge of the evening programs for a week at the Baptist Assembly in Recife, and will also conduct a 5-day-city-wide revival in Belo Horizonte. Other cities in which services will be conducted are Belem, Sao Paulo, Fortaleza and Salvador. Special sightseeing tours have also been arranged.

The Brazilian Basketball Confederation officials think they can have 10,000 spectators in three cities. Between games, Jackie will speak on "Clean Living" and the International Choir will sing. Invitations then will be extended to the spectators to a youth rally on the following day. The Rev. Mr. Whitlow has been invited to share the preaching responsibilities.

On the return trip stop-overs will be made in Caracas, Venezuela, and Trinidad.

Mrgin of Deasperi Is Sander

By RIER TATARIAN

ROME (AP) — Premier Alcide De Gasperi's pro-Western coalition government was returned to power today but the margin was so slender there was doubt they could win control for long.

The final come of the parliamentary election held Sunday and Monday came surprisingly close to outright defeat for the Christian Democrats allied parties. They wound up with a 16-vote majority in the 474-member assembly.

The announcement added that the Soviet government also has under consideration cases of other Soviet wives of American citizens desiring exit visas.

Those to be allowed to depart are the wives of Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press bureau chief in Moscow, and Robert Tucker of Kansas City, Mo., an embassy employee attached to the Press Reading Service, and the two children of Mrs. Ethel Balashova of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Balashova was divorced from a Soviet citizen in a Soviet court which granted her custody of their two girls.

The United States told the U. N. General Assembly in December, 1948, that as of that date 350 Soviet wives and 85 Soviet husbands of American citizens were being refused permission by Russia to leave the country. Until today, there has been no announcement that any of these have been given exit visas.

Both the Tucker and Gilmore families plan to leave Moscow soon, when formalities have been completed. They expect to go by way of Helsinki, Finland, and Stockholm, Sweden. The Gilmore has two daughters, Vicki and Susanna. The Tuckers have no children.

Chairman Harrell Hall read letters received from Congressman Owen Harris and Senator J. W. Fulbright in regard to the letters written them by the Retail Merchants Committee, concerning parcel post regulations.

The group delayed final action on July 4 closing of stores until Wednesday morning, June 17, at which time the proposition will be properly discussed and recommendations to all merchants made.

The next community Hope Value Day promotion will be held the first Tuesday in July, which will be the 7th of the month.

Russian Wives of Americans Are Released

MOSCOW (AP) — The U. S. Embassy announced last night that the Soviet government plans to grant permission to leave Russia to the Russian wives of two American citizens and two Russian-born minor daughters of a woman embassy employee.

The announcement added that the Soviet government also has under consideration cases of other Soviet wives of American citizens desiring exit visas.

Latest Hits Massachusetts Where 85 Die

By United Press

Three days of tornadoes, sweeping from the great plains to the Atlantic coast, left 231 dead, thousands injured and millions of dollars in property damage.

All of the tornadoes appeared to have been spawned by a single squall line moving across country from Nebraska to Massachusetts, a U. S. weatherman said.

Here is the diary of the death-dealing weather pattern:

Sunday — A twister hit a rural area near Arcadia, Neb., killing 11 persons including 10 at a family reunion dinner.

Monday — Tornadoes — perhaps eight of them — hit the heavily populated area of Eastern Michigan and Northwestern Ohio, killing 149 persons and injuring 1,000. Of the total, 124 of the dead and more than 500 of the injured were in Michigan.

Tuesday — The squall line moved across New England and tornadoes killed at least 85 persons. The death list rose as more bodies were found and severely injured persons died.

Worcester, Mass. (AP) — National guardsmen patrolled the rubble-filled streets of 11 Worcester County communities today as searchers dug through ruins left by a death-dealing tornado that took at least 85 lives, made 2,500 homeless and caused up to $50,000,000 in damage.

Authorities feared the death toll might rise. Police said ruins of 20 houses still remained to be searched.

Approximately 800 persons were injured.

Frontline families visited morgues and hospitals in search of missing relatives and friends. In one Worcester hospital there were eight unidentified bodies.

The worst tornado ever to visit New England whirled in a twisting, destructive path through Central Massachusetts during the supper hour yesterday. It spent its fury within 30 minutes.

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — As the second dawn rose on the wreckage left by a string of Michigan and Ohio tornadoes, crews resumed cleanup work and the long search for more dead.

Worst hit in the roaring winds that whirled down out of Monday evening's dark skies were the northern outskirts of this industrial city. The dead here were counted at 111.

But twisters took at least eight other gigantic swipes to kill a total of 130, injured more than 1,000 and do possibly 15 million dollars in property damage.

Eight died in the Cleveland area. Continued on Page Two Birmingham and New Orleans, first and fifth, respectively, in the Southern Association, present an interesting study in contrasts. The Barons, currently ahead by three games in the bitterly contested pennant scramble, have lost two hard-hitting outfielders in injuries. The New York Yankees farmhands have lost three of their last five games and are pressing the Yanks for an outfield replacement.

New Orleans, six games off the pace, has won five of its last six starts, and the Pels are getting good reinforcements from the parent Pittsburgh Pirates. The Braves sent down Vitcher Pettit, $100,000 bonus baby, a few days ago. And yesterday they came that Felipe Montemayor, Mexican outfielder, was on the way to the Pelicans.

New Orleans rocked a quartet of Chattanooga pitchers for 21 hits in punctuating the last place job.

Nobody Wins
After Three
Year Fight

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, AP — Now, after three years of a shouting war with Communism, who's ahead? The West can claim some advantages. So may the Communists.

This country backed by the United Nations, set out to stop Communist aggression and it succeeded. After three years of the Korean fighting which began in June, 1950, the two armies face each other where the fighting began at the 38th Parallel.

The stand taken by the U. N. in Korea may have discouraged Communist aggression elsewhere in those three years. If the Russians used Korea to see whether they could overrun one country after another without fear of war with the West, they found they couldn't.

The evidence that the U. N., with this country shouldering much of the burden, was willing to make great sacrifices in men and money to stop Communist attacks anywhere could not but strengthen other countries everywhere against the Communists. This was a gain by itself for the West.

And the Korean attack shocked the West, which until then had lain like an inert and weaponless giant on the Russian doorstep into tight alliance and real rearmament. This was its greatest gain in the war.

But the alliance, the rearming and the fighting in Korea cost the Allies, particularly this country, plenty in men and money. The effect of this cost and of the three years of fighting which wound up nowhere has begun to show.

Already, even though the Russian menace hasn't diminished, the West has begun to slow down on its arming long before being fully armed. And cracks in the alliance are beginning to appear.

Western Europe, much closer to the Russian threat than the U. S., urges this country to come to an understanding with the Russians, apparently in the blind hope that somehow maybe there can be peace.

If the Russians can play upon the mixed emotions of the Western Allies and split them even more, they will have won a lot of ground at no cost except for the breath it required to murmur "peace."

The West began slowing down on armaments when the Russians began mild talk.

So if the Korean War has wearied the Allies to the point where they long for peace so much that they are willing to make greater compromises with the Communists than they would have three years ago, the Russians have gained.

The Russians had to furnish great military supplies in the Korean War for the Chinese Communists. Just as this country had to do most of the supplying on the U. S. side. This meant a greater burden on the Russian economy, just as it did here.

But in doing so they had to step up their arms production which strengthened their capacity for making larger war, if and when.

In the Korean War the North Koreans and the Chinese did the dying on the Red side. And the supplies which the Chinese Communists had to deliver to Korea hit them at the very moment they were trying to improve China internally and thereby increase their control of it.

Yet, at the same time, the Chinese were able to use this war to test their fighting techniques and build up their armies, for even bigger adventures in Asia.

And the ability of the Chinese Communists to stand off the men and latest military science of the West must certainly have increased respect for them, and their power, among the other peoples of Asia.

The Communists stand to lose nothing by an armistice. They can use the period of the peace talks to build up their military positions in case they suddenly decide on a new attack.

At the same time they can use fly switches.

Korean peace talks, with all the delays and haggling involved, as a handy instrument for trying to create even further dissatisfaction among the Allies.

An armistice means only a pause in the shooting while the dangerous in-fighting of the peace talks go on. The real victor in Korea isn't known yet.

Who rode the phantom horse with the GHOSTLY HOOFBEATS?

Some of the Bootjack settlers said it was Flint Manning, whose son, Cole had inherited his badge of law and order. Others knew that Cole Manning would need flesh and bones and brains to deal with the likes of Mack Torgin and Slade Ruxton. Perhaps only the lovely Laura really knew the answer...

You'll find out as you follow this fast-paced tale of a strange Western frontier.

on her. Shortly before the coronation, an Allied officer said to the duke during an inspection tour: "I suppose you are looking forward to June 2?" — the coronation day.

"No, I'm looking forward to June 3," replied the duke, smiling. His various titles — he is a field marshal as well as an admiral — provide the duke with a wide variety of headgear besides the coronet he wore on coronation day.

"He told of putting his admirals' cocked hat on sideways, thrusting his hand into his shirt, and then stroking along the palace as if he were Napoleon. Asked what his wife thought of this, the duke is reported to have admitted wryly:

"The queen was not amused." But the serious young queen and her handsome light-hearted duke are perhaps the best-matched couple in British royal history.

A palace can be a mighty dull place, and a queen is lucky to have a husband around who knows how to laugh, and can brighten it with a little horse play.

The greatest moment of suspense in the coronation ceremony in the Abbey came when the 69-year-old archbishop of Canterbury started to lift the heavy St. Edward's Crown and put it on the queen.

His fingers lifted, he hesitated, lifted more strongly, and up came the crown safely, thus avoiding the greatest bubble in history.

I had a nightmare feeling that if it had slipped, fallen, and rolled across the floor, the archbishop would groan aloud:

"Oh, no. Now they'll sell me guests of relatives and friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Bill Morrow and son have returned to their home in Dallas after a visit with his mother, Mrs. Otto Stephenson.

Mrs. Edward Bryson, Mary Beth Bryson and Jim McKenzie accompanied Ed Bryson to Mt. Ida Sunday where he will attend Ozark Boys' Camp.

J. H. Langley, Miss Roxann Langley and Johnny spent Sunday in Camden with Mrs. Langley who is ill in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cummings of Glendwater, Texas, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lee.

Mrs. Nels Danielson and son, Nels Edward, were Saturday visitors in Little Rock.

Robert Penchey, who is seriously ill in Veterans Hospital, Little Rock, is reported slightly improved.

ROK Students Cry Go Home Yankees

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

SEOUL, UP—At least 2,000 young students shouting "Yankee go home!" and other slogans paraded through the streets of Seoul today in the second day of angry demonstrations against an impending armistice.

The new demonstrations erupted as aging President Syngman Rhee announced through a spokesman that he will not leave Korea "at this time of grave situations" to carry a personal protest to Washington.

Gen. Park Sun Yup, chief of staff of the South Korean Army, arrived here by plane from the U. S. today to take command of the nation's 16 American-trained divisions.

And South Korea's draft bureau ordered all Korean men between 19 and 25 to be ready for call as government leaders reiterated threats to fight on alone if a truce leaves Korea divided.

Men between 17 and 19 and between 25 and 40 were ordered to report their whereabouts and any change in draft status.

Staff officers were working at Pusanmum on final details of a truce which could be signed this week. South Korea already has branded the armistice a "death sentence" and "sellout."

Farm leaders believe that uncooked garbage is a leading cause of hog diseases and recommend that garbage fed to hogs be cooked.

to the St. Louis Browns."

The coronation was an all-British production, and the British are still immensely proud of how well they carried it off.

"In one way this is the greatest anti-American demonstration of the century," one Englishman joked. "It proved we could get something done without help either from Washington or Hollywood."
